

Reschedules

All CVRSA teams are to play their games as scheduled unless one or more of the following criteria are met. Reschedules for any other reason than those listed below will result in a CVRSA cancellation penalty.

- Rainout, unsafe/unplayable field, or referee mandated postponements
- Unanticipated mandatory school or religious activities which result in a team being substantially unavailable
- Unanticipated extraordinary circumstances

Associations are requested to avoid game rescheduling games. Additionally, coaches are not permitted to make "outside arrangements" among themselves to reschedule CVRSA games (e.g. if a team's coach cannot attend a game, the coach shall find a substitute and play the game as scheduled).

All cancellations are to be rescheduled, and all efforts must be taken to ensure that the cancelled game is rescheduled during the CVRSA season. Forfeits are not acceptable and will result in a CVRSA cancellation penalty of $100 per occurrence to the at fault team's association.

Weather Related Cancellation & Reschedule Procedure

Games may be cancelled for weather related conditions that result in field closure by the home association. There is typically no fine associated with this process.

1. If possible, a play/no-play decision shall be made by the field contact of each association prior to 7:00 AM Saturday (or Sunday for makeup days) for their home field sites.
2. Each home association's field contact or designated representative is responsible for notifying the CVRSA scheduler via email at cvrsa@outlook.com of any field closure status for their home field sites at least 2 hours prior to their first scheduled game so that the CVRSA website can be updated.
3. Each association's field contact is responsible for notifying the BRSO referee scheduler at least 2 hours prior to their first scheduled game of the status of their home field sites involving CVRSA team play. BRSO must be notified of the postponed games so that referees are aware of the status of each association's fields.

BRSO Contact: John Lesniak, 434-426-5749 (if no answer, Mort Sajadian, 434-426-1888 or 434-851-5221)

4. Each association's field contact or designated representative is responsible for any additional (association specific) cancellation processes (posting cancellations for their home field sites only, placing messages on their association's Cancellation Hotline number, etc.).

General Cancellation & Reschedule Procedure

All general reschedule requests will result in a CVRSA cancellation penalty of $20 per occurrence issued to the at fault association. This penalty will be waived for simple field changes within the same venue or a reasonable time shift within the same day. Additionally, abuse of this process may result in additional punitive measures being taken against the team's association.

1. If cancellation is absolutely unavoidable, the coach must contact his/her CVRSA Representative a minimum of 96 hours in advance of the game (e.g. Tuesday for a Saturday game). The CVRSA relies upon the discretion of their designated representatives to police to general process, and a list of current CVRSA representatives is maintained on the CVRSA website (www.cvrso.org).
2. The CVRSA Representative of the team requesting the cancellation shall then contact the opposing team's CVRSA Representative and the CVRSA scheduler (via email at cvrsa@outlook.com) a minimum of 72 hours in advance of the game (e.g. Wednesday for a Saturday game). It is the responsibility of each CVRSA Representative to confirm the cancellations with their own team's coaches.
3. The BRSO referee assignor, requesting CVRSA Representative, opposing CVRSA Representative and others will be notified via email by the scheduling system when the game is cancelled and rescheduled.

BRSO Contact: John Lesniak, 434-426-5749 (if no answer, Mort Sajadian, 434-426-1888 or 434-851-5221)

4. It is then the responsibility of the CVRSA Representative on whose home field the game was scheduled to contact the opposing CVRSA Representative to make arrangements to reschedule the game. Arrangements must be agreed upon within 72 hours of the originally scheduled game. The make-up game may be scheduled on either association's home field as mutually agreeable between the associations and the referee assignor in order to ensure that a suitable field is available and that referees are available, if possible.
5. It is also the responsibility of the association on whose home field the game was scheduled to contact the CVRSA scheduler via email at cvrsa@outlook.com within 72 hours of the originally scheduled game to ensure that the public schedules are updated on the website. The message should include the CVRSA assigned game number, new game date, new game time and new game location. When the online schedule is updated, each association's contacts, the home association's field coordinator and the home association's assignor are notified via email of the reschedule information.

6. Due to the complexities of the CVRSA schedule, failure to follow this process may result in no referees for the rescheduled game plus the home association being charged additional referee fees for the originally scheduled game.
